

Holiday Giveaway Drawing

Top Prizes

Carnegie Hall Concert Tickets

In conjunction with their JapanNYC series, Carnegie Hall will offer a pair of tickets to The Bach Collegium Japan on March 22nd. Don't miss Carnegie Hall's other exciting Japan programs going on through April, 2011. You can get more info about JapanNYC at www.carnegiehall.org/japannyc. For tours of Carnegie Hall including a special tour being offered exclusively in Japanese go to the following link: <http://soundinsights.carnegiehall.org/2010/11/take-japanese-language-tour-of-carnegie.html>.

Gifts

American Airlines Theater

American Airlines, our gracious partner of last year's top prize is with us again this year offering four vouchers for tickets to a show of your choice at the American Airlines Theater. American Airlines Theater, located on the legendary 42nd Street theater row off of 7th Avenue, offers exciting shows like "The Importance of Being Ernest" and "The People in the Picture". As part of this promotion, American Airlines announces its direct flight service from New York to Tokyo's Haneda Airport. Haneda Airport is Tokyo's closest airport, convenient to many parts of Tokyo that are not as quickly or easily accessible from Narita airport.

You don't need to be in attendance to win the top prizes. We'll send them to you with your contact information. But try to be on hand on the 18th for a small host of other giveaway and gift prizes to walk out with. We will have exciting items offered by other important partners including New York Anime Festival, Kodansha Publishing, Tuttle Publishing. And Kinokuniya will be throwing in some fine book titles which will make handsome and special gifts as well. So, join us on December 18th or enter before then at the info counter by the ground floor cash registers today!!!

Fun

Prizes